TECHNICAL PROJECTS

WEHIKERS | JUNE 2023.

- This is a Node/ExpressJs web app
- I used Cloudinary to store the images and MongoDB as the database.
- Users are able to register, create a hike and review other hikes/trails.
- In developing this application, I learnt how to authenticate/authorize in a NodeJS application
- I used EJs as the view engine
- The app is hosted for free so when viewing using the link(in the name), give it a minute to load

MOVIES APP | MAY 2023.

- This is a React application
- Users can fetch popular movies by clicking a button on page load
- RapidAPI's API is being used to get movies' data
- The hosted application is automatically redeployed from my GitHub repository with each new push, as part of the CI/CD process
- This was a one-day project for an internship assessment, developed according to the provided employer specifications

TRAVEL EXPERTS | MAY 2023.

- Collaborated with a team of 4 to build a dynamic .NET MVC application using Microsoft SQL Server and SQL.
- I led database scaffolding, design, and styling while also providing support to my team
- Blended the flexibility of CSS with the ease-of-use of Bootstrap, resulting in a captivating and responsive web application
